<ul style="list-style-type: none">I have him in multiple classes through out the career here and i really like this guy great profThe course material is very challenging, but you're an excellent teacher and really made the learning fun. Being in groups was very helpful also, because it gave a way to boost our grades and also have people to talk to if we didn't understand something. At one point during the IDEAs I even found it fun to do things in R, and I thought I was going to hate taking a stats course.
